

ASSOCIATION OF AFRICAN YOUNG ECONOMISTS
ASSOCIATION DES JEUNES ECONOMISTES AFRICAINS

Mission statement : Cognizant of the relevance of knowledge economy in 21st century development, the Association of African Young Economists (AAYE) is an institution created on the 03/03/2013 which aims to facilitate scientific collaboration for contribution to and dissemination of knowledge towards development in the African continent.

Objectif: L'AAYE est une organisation à but non lucrative et apolitique créée le 03/03/2013 par un groupe restreint de jeunes chercheurs et expert Africains. Cette institution est destinée à mettre sur pied un réseau international des jeunes économistes Africains pour encourager le développement du continent à travers la collaboration et les publications scientifiques.

CALL FOR PAPERS

2017 ISMA / AAYE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

03rd -04th AUGUST 2017, ABUJA, NIGERIA.

N°= 00220 /AAYE/DECEMBRE/19/2016

MAIN TOPIC:

“SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT IN AFRICA”

Brief rationale:

The links between financial inclusion and SDGs (sustainable development goals) are not as well established. SDG 9, which calls for business innovation, might be attended by wider access to credit. Entrepreneurs often use microloans to increase investments in small businesses, but microcredit has not turned out to be the engine of innovation many once hoped it would be. Nor is there strong evidence that financial inclusion directly reduces inequality within and among countries (SDG 10) or leads to inclusive economic growth on the national level (SDG 8). Promoting peace and stability (SDG16) is easier when people are economically successful, but it would be difficult to show that financial services can have a strong impact on their own. SDGs not covered at all include goals 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, and 17, where the role of financial services is not directly evident. Another important SDG is SDG 5: Promoting gender equality.

Therefore, it is empirically and theoretically well known that the major part of growth is supported by the investment and business performance. We welcome papers highlighting and solving economic development (but not limited to) issues such as:

- Financial sector matters;
- Environmental economics;
- Human resources issues;
- Green growth issues;
- Industrialization issue;
- Economic trade;
- ...etc.
